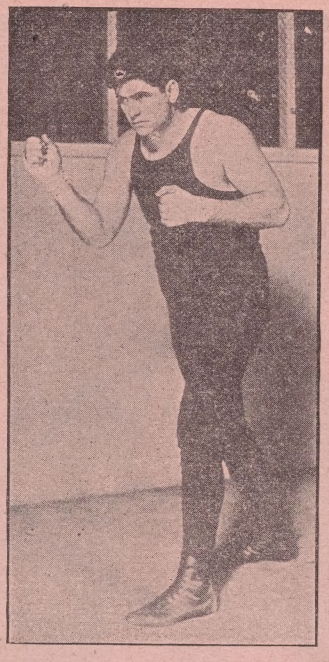
By TOM S. ANDREWS
(Noted Sports Writer and Boxing Critic)

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Georges Carpentier, the French boxing idol and recent conqueror of Joe Beckett, the British champion, in one round, intends to invade America once more and try his speed against the light heavyweights. Georges, no doubt, had enough of Champion Jack Dempsey when he went down in four rounds at Jersey City, July 2, 1921. The French boxer did not mind his defeat so much by Dempsey, but it was a heart breaker to him when he fell before Battling Siki, the Senegalese, in six rounds at Paris, Sept. 24, 1922. Now Georges is coming back here for the purpose of meeting Tommy Gibbons or some other star light heavyweight before Tex Rickard's Madison Square Garden club in New York. He will arrive about the middle of November and would make a wonderful Christmas or New Year's attraction.

Jimmy Delaney, the latest sensation among the light heavies, has requested his manager, Mike Collins, to issue a challenge to Carpentier for an international match. Delaney is so confident that he can whip the Frenchman that he is willing to fight him in America or Europe for any purse and will give him a side bet of anywhere from $1,000 to $10,000 if he wishes it.

"It is no bluff on my part," said Delaney, who is here training for bouts, "for I am convinced I can defeat Georges to a certainty. Not only that, but I am willing to risk my own money on my chances of beating him. I know betting or side stakes are not the custom in the states now, but if the fight should take place in Europe it seems to be part of the agreement to have a side bet. It is my desire to first meet Gene Tunney for the American light heavyweight championship in a contest of not less than 15 rounds. If Tommy Gibbons gets Tunney first, I feel that I will then have to fight Gibbons for the title, as I am sure Tommy will defeat the present holder if they meet. However, I am in no hurry, as I am young and can afford to wait a bit, but I do want to get a crack at Carpentier, for he is one star I feel certain of defeating."

Tex Rickard will not be the only promoter after Carpentier for matches. It is understood that Jack Doyle, master of the Vernon coliseum arena, would like to bring Delaney and the French champion together for a short bout—four rounds —while Jim Coffroth, president of the big racing establishment at Tia Juana, would not mind staging a 20-round fight between Delaney and Carpentier, if the Benny Leonard-Mickey Walker affair proves successful. However, the four-round bout at Doyle's arena would no doubt be the magnet for Carpentier, and if it could be arranged, would no doubt draw $150,000 at raised prices, which the sporting followers of Los Angeles would not hesitate to pay. Delaney has made a big hit on the Pacific coast with his clever work and would be a great favorite for a big match with the Frenchman.



LUIS ANGEL FIRPO
Argentine, South America, Heavyweight, who was third choice of voters in Boxing Blade contest to select most popular contenders for heavyweight championship. Firpo polled a total of 22,000 votes.

Firpo Still Popular in U. S.

Reports from South America say that Luis Angel Firpo, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas," who was defeated by Champion Jack Dempsey in New York last September, did not receive much of a reception when he returned home. Horatio Mandozan, a business man of Argentina, is authority for the statement. It may all be true, but just the same Mr. "Wild Bull" Firpo came nearer taking away Mr. Dempsey's crown than one who ever entered the ring with him. Jack admitted to the writer only a few days ago, during a fanning bee, that Firpo had him dazed throughout the whirlwind battle after the first punch he landed in the first ten seconds of the fight. That was when Jack rushed across the ring to try and end the contest with one punch, but falling short fell into a short uppercut to the jaw delivered by Firpo. For a time it was anybody's battle and only the terrific left hand hooks to the jaw saved Jack's crown. It was good fortune, too, that saved him when he was knocked through the ropes, for had he landed on his head or been hurt otherwise the title would have passed to the South American. Firpo really deserved a lot of credit for his splendid showing, considering the fact that he was not much more than a novice with the gloves when he landed a year ago. Firpo will be a mighty dangerous opponent for Dempsey next summer if he improves his knowledge of the game by having some competent teacher of the fistic art take hold of him.

McTigue Still to Prove He's Real Champ

Mike McTigue, the hero of Dublin, as a result of his defeat of Battling Siki in the metropolis of Ireland, will have a chance on December 10th in the Garden, New York, to show whether he is a real champion or not. On that date he will meet Gene Tunney, who holds the American title of light heavyweight champion, and the winner will have a more clear title of world's champion. Reports of his fight with Siki differed, some declaring that Mike was very lucky to gain the verdict and title. Since that time he has been most careful with his

Breezy Broadway Boxing Bits

By Arthur T. Lumley

MM. MULDOON desires to abolish boxing shows in the big baseball parks.

* * *

But some of the other commissioners will have something to say about that.

* * *

If Mr. Rickard builds an immense open air fistic arena for next summer, it would give him the monopoly in the game during the open air season.

* * *

And that is evidently the reason Mr. Muldoon desires to abolish the sport in the ball parks.

* * *

It shows how kind and considerate Mr. Muldoon is for Mr. Rickard's interests.

* * *

When any violation occurs at the Garden, Mr. Muldoon becomes deaf, dumb and blind.

* * *

It's only the poor, struggling, small fry promoters who get it in the neck when they are hauled up before the discriminating commission.

* * *

Mr. Muldoon says the bouts at some ball parks last summer caused great dissatisfaction and confusion.

* * *

Because the spectators who paid very high prices for choice seats saw nothing of the contests.

* * *

As thousands of the wild fans stood up on the benches and shut out the view of ring.

* * *

Quite right, old top, quite right! But whose fault was that, Mr. Muldoon

* * *

Do not the crazy fans stand on their seats at the Garden and yell like madmen?

* * *

Do they not disgust the respectable spectators who pay exorbitant prices for their seats?

* * *

Why are these wild hoodlums allowed to be so disorderly and obnoxious?

* * *

In Wisconsin boxing shows are conducted in an orderly and efficient manner.

* * *

There is no obstreperous and boisterous behavior on the part of the fans at Milwaukee and other parts of Wisconsin.

* * *

Why should boxing shows in this great city be run in such a disgraceful manner?

* * *

If the Wisconsin Boxing Commission conducts the game in a respectable and worthy way, why shouldn't the N. Y. commission do likewise?

Is it because our Commission is absolutely incompetent or doesn't give a tinker's cuss?

* * *

The other night at the Garden, I asked one of these wild jumping jacks to sit down and not obstruct my view.

* * *

"Where de 'ell do yer tink yer are, in church," he answered with a snarl.

* * *

And what a fine lot of punks some of the special officers are at most of the clubs.

* * *

Many of the helpless young boxers have to pay these "specials" in order to get along smoothly.

* * *

There's no reason why clubs should not be conducted as well as high class theatres.

* * *

If our commission did their duty properly without fear or favor.

* * *

But even these special cops obtain their position through some political boss.

* * *

In fact, everything is politics in the boxing game in this state.

* * *

From the ticket taker to the mighty Boxing Commission.

* * *

Under these deplorable conditions, how can boxing be clean and progressive?

* * *

They say that Rickard's proposed new open air arena will cost at least $500,000 to build.

* * *

Rickard will, however, not risk this big sum except he obtains some assurance from the powers that be, that the coming session of the legislature will not repeal the present boxing law.

* * *

But at this stage of the game it's quite impossible to foretell what the lawmakers will do with the manly sport.

* * *

It's quite certain, however, that the law will be amended to suit some of the political bosses.

* * *

Especially if the Republicans gain a decisive majority in the Assembly.

* * *

Mike McTigue and his manager, Joe Jacobs, are having a fierce battle royal.

* * *

Mike is absolutely determined to break away from Joe, contract or no contract.

* * *

What they say about each other is something awful. Wouldn't look nice in print.

* * *

McTigue has declared his match with Gene Tunney off until January next.

* * *

Mike claims his hand is out of commission since he fought Tommy Loughran.

* * *

Jersey Jones says his lightweight, Ray Pryel, is a very erratic chap to manage.

* * *

Ray either suddenly gets sick or his wife won't let him fight at the last moment.

* * *

What a temperamental lot many of the boxers are, anyway.

* * *

Some of them don't want to fight because it's too hot and others because it's too cold, etc.

* * *

While others have some strange superstition about certain rings and opponents.

* * *

No wonder some managers have brainstorms and heart disease.

* * *

But there's one Broadway manager whom no fighter can embarrass nor disturb.

* * *

And he is Leo Millionaire Flynn, the indomitable impresario.

* * *

He handles a stable of some forty fighters with an iron hand.

* * *

There's a windy spot on Broadway at Times Square they call "the Paddock."

* * *

Crowds of fight bugs, baseball fans and horse fiends gather there every afternoon.

* * *

These tobasco sports will bet you any amount from half a buck to a million on any match.

* * *

And they usually have the inside dope on all the coming fights.

* * *

If a boxer fails to train properly they know it before anyone else.

* * *

If a match is fixed one way or another, these birds get wise in time to trim the suckers.

* * *

But all is not gold that glitters with them, some of it is stage money and hot air.

* * *

However, "the Paddock" is the hottest sporting spot on earth for its size.

* * *

Jimmy Troyford says he has retired from the boxing game.

* * *

He has given Jimmy O'Gatty, his young middleweight, a full release.

Ring Show Staged to Raise Funds for Building Church

BY WILLIAM ROCAP
(Sports Editor, Philadelphia Public Ledger)

BOXING is being purged of its viciousness. There is a better element fostering the sport. Boys' clubs, Y. M. C. A.'s, colleges and schools are encouraging the pastime, because the exercise, strenuous as it may seem, breeds and develops manly men. Now the churches have turned to that branch of athletics to corral young men. Those in control have discovered that there is great fascination in a boxing match. Just think of the possibilities of the game. There is now a new angle to its commercial side. Money to build a church. How shall the fund be started? A building committee of St. Philomena's Church has solved the problem.

A boxing show was held at St. Philomena's Hall, with some of the best boys in the city appearing. The entire proceeds derived from this affair were turned over to the fund to help to build a new church. Mrs. and Miss Delaney were in charge. The following boxers appeared: Soldier Taylor vs. Buck Fleming, Roche Rogers vs. Jimmy Ireland, Young Jack Dempsey vs. Battling Abe Cohen, Young Fitzsimmons vs. Young Mende, Lew Baker vs. Phil Brown, Bobby Wolgast vs. Billy Williams, Alex Hart vs. Bobby Barrett, Tommy Loughran vs. Johnny McLaughlin. Joe Griffo was referee.

Boxing Expert Agrees With Blade Readers On Title Contenders

DAMON RUNYON, prominent writer on sports, and boxing expert, whose articles appear in a string of daily newspapers all over the United States, has classified contenders for Jack Dempsey's heavyweight championship as follows:

Harry Wills, New Orleans negro, first.

Tom Gibbons, St. Paul, second.

Luis Firpo, Argentine, South America, third.

Floyd Johnson, Iowa, and Jack Renault, Canada, fourth.

By a "strange" coincidence Runyon's article was published two days after the close of the Boxing Blade's popular contest in which readers of the Blade voted their opinion of the best contenders for the championship in all classes.

And the result of the voting in the Blade contest placed the heavyweight contenders in the same positions given by Runyon with one exception—Floyd Johnson, whose name did not appear among the first ten heavyweight challengers.

Johnson was eliminated from further consideration as a title contender by Jack Renault the other night, which indicates that ring followers who did not vote for him in the Blade contest knew pretty well what they were doing.

Otherwise, the choice of the public as expressed in the Blade contest agrees with that of Damon Runyon, boxing expert—or his choice agrees with that of the Boxing Blade voters.

This would indicate that Runyon is a good critic and that the public, as represented by readers of the Boxing Blade, is a good judge of the relative merits of championship contenders.

Runyon gives the following reasons for rating the heavyweight contenders in the order given:

"Wills is placed first on size, strength, experience and past performance.

"Gibbons must be rated second because he went 15 rounds with the champion, something no other man has ever done.

"Firpo comes third because he demonstrated in his fight with Jack Dempsey that he always has the outside chance of getting home one smash that might win."

McAuliffe is fifty-seven years of age and today is a familiar figure around the New York race tracks.

Harry Wills Kayoes Jack Thompson in the Fourth Round

Newark, N. J.—Harry Wills, New Orleans colored heavyweight contender for Jack Dempsey's title, technically knocked out Jack Thompson, Boston negro, in the fourth round at a 12-round match at the First Regiment armory here Nov. 5. Thompson's seconds threw a towel into the ring as he went down heavily for the second time in the round from a battering attack to the head and body.

For the first three rounds and most of the fourth Thompson withstood a terrific pummeling. He showed little effective offense himself, but seemed able to absorb the hardest shocks of Will's hooks and swings and come back for more.

Wills rushed out of his corner in the fourth, intent upon ending the battle. He soon had Thompson groggy with slashing rights and lefts to the head and ribs. A right uppercut sent the Boston Negro to his knees, and he took a count of nine. He arose only to meet another withering drive and reeled about the ring, but it required a fusillade of carefully timed punches before Wills was able to bring down his man. Referee Henry Lewis had counted three when a towel came hurdling into the ring.

It was a rough and tumble encounter most of the way. Wills was guilty of questionable tactics at close quarters in the first and second rounds, while he unmercifully battered Thompson about the body. The latter was in constant retreat and hung on repeatedly.

In the third Thompson again took Wills' hardest blows, wagging his head from side to side without raising a glove in defense as his opponent's blows rattled off his chin.

Then for a brief season the Boston man rallied and drove Wills back. This offense was shortlived, however, and Wills had his man hanging on at the bell. That was Thompson's last flurry. He was little less than a chopping block for Wills in the final round.

More than 12,000 fans witnessed the battle and gave Wills a noisy greeting.

On the same card, Stewart McLean, St. Paul featherweight and stablemate of Delaney's under Mike Gibbons and Mike Collins, will make his initial appearance here in a special event with Ad Robidoux as his opponent. This also will be a tough tryout for McLean who recently joined Manager Mike Collins who is piloting Delaney and Johnny O'Donnell, St. Paul lightweight, in their Pacific Coast campaign.

RENAULT MAY MEET WILLS OR GIBBONS

New York.—Tex Rickard has begun negotiations to match Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight who knocked out Floyd Johnson, with either Tom Gibbons, St. Paul light heavyweight, or Harry Wills, colored title contender.

Rickard has undertaken the negotiations in the interests of a New York newspaper's Christmas fund. If arranged, the promoter plans to stage the match around holiday time, possibly December 21st, at Madison Square garden.

Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills, has had some differences with Rickard and announced he would not sign for any match with the garden promoter, but it is believed he might alter his attitude as the bout would be a charity affair. Should efforts to sign the colored man be unavailing, however, Gibbons probably will be selected. The St. Paul battler, who went the limit with Jack Dempsey, last July 4th, has been asked to name his terms.

Renault's manager, Leo Flynn, has discussed the proposal with Rickard and although he has not accepted definitely, no difficulty is expected in bringing about an agreement so far as the Canadian is concerned.

NEW WINNIPEG PROMOTER PLANS WELLS-LOGAN BOUT

Winnipeg, Canada.—K. R. Dusang, promoter of automobile races in Canada, plans to stage boxing shows here this winter. His first show will be held some time this month. Promoter Dusang hopes to show Billy Wells, British welterweight champion, on his opening card. If he can land the English star, Dusang will get a good opponent for him. Bud Logan, Omaha, who gave Wells a tough fight not long ago, knocking the Britisher down for a nine-count in one of the late rounds, may be given the assignment.

Promoter Dusang will follow the wishes of the new Winnipeg Boxing Commission in staging high class shows. Members of the commission are James Morkin, chairman; "Doc" Bricker and D. W. Anderson, secretary. Bricker is president of the Amateur Baseball Association of Canada. Anderson is in the advertising business.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER KAYOED IN FIRST RING BOUT

San Francisco, Calif.—Franal Ruffles, who forsook Sunday school teaching and choir directing in Hanford, Calif., for a career as a pugilist, was knocked out on his first appearance in a San Francisco ring Nov. 1. Ted Snyder, who describes himself as heavyweight champion of the Marines, dealt the sleep producer in the final frame of a four-round main event.

Jack Renault K.O's. Floyd Johnson in Final Session of 15-Round Bout

New York.—Jack Renault, Canada, knocked out Floyd Johnson, Iowa, in the final round of a 15-round bout here Nov. 2. Floyd was down three times in the last round.

A right hand uppercut followed by a left hook to the jaw sent Floyd down the first time. As he got up at the count of five Renault knocked him down again with a right to the jaw. When he rose at the count of nine, helpless, Renault knocked him down again, the referee stopping the fight. It goes as a knockout.

Johnson had very little chance against the Canadian after the second round. Although occasionally he rallied and tried to take the play away from Renault, the latter did as he pleased with Johnson as the fight progressed. He left handed Floyd foolish and kept pegging right hand uppercuts to Johnson's chin which had the Iowan reeling all over the place. However, it was not until the last inning that Renault succeeded in bringing Floyd down.

When Renault put on the finishing punches Johnson was punch drunk and it seemed an easy matter to topple him over.

The first knockdown in that last round came as a result of a right uppercut and a left hook to the chin. Johnson struggled to his feet only to be knocked down again, Johnson got up once more but he was helpless. The crowd yelled for the referee to stop it but it wasn't until Renault smashed Johnson down that the referee decided upon interfering. Johnson's seconds were somewhat tardy in acknowledging defeat.

Johnson weighed 196 pounds while Renault scaled 196½. Twice during the bout Renault came close to being hurled out of the ring. Once in the third and again in the seventh Renault came near pulling a Dempsey but in Renault's case they came more as shoves than blows.

Just 10,973 paid customers saw the contest for a gate of $50,653.

George Godfrey, Negro heavyweight, knocked out Bill Tate, Chicago Negro, in the seventh round of the 10-round semi-windup.

Godfrey sent Tate down for the count of 10 with a terrific left hook 12 seconds before the end of the round. Until then the pair had staged a slow, uninteresting encounter. Godfrey weighed 225½ and Tate 233¾.

Billy Shade, California lightweight, defeated Jack Burke of Pittsburgh, former sparring partner of Jack Dempsey, in a bristly eight-round preliminary.

Shade's aggressiveness earned him the judge's verdict, although Burke landed hard and effectively at times. Shade weighed 175½ and Burke 176½.

Ed Keeley of Bridgeport, Conn., won the judge's decision over Dan Bright of England in another eight-round preliminary. Bright weighed 209¾, and Keeley 194.

JOHNNY WILSON TO GET RETURN BOUT WITH GREB

New York.—Johnny Wilson, relieved of his title by Harry Greb during the summer, made such a great fight against George Robinson recently in Boston that he has been matched with Greb for a return battle here.

Wilson was one of the most doleful spectacles in the ring so long as he held the title, but as soon as he became an ex-champion he made a greater fight than anyone believed he could. As a challenger against Greb and fortified with the experience of 15 rounds against the puzzling wild man from Pittsburgh, Wilson might afford a much better spectacle than he did in losing to Greb at the Polo Grounds.

It is very hard for Greb to make the middleweight limit of 160 pounds. He is a natural light heavyweight, and if Wilson had been any fighter at all on the night of their bout, Greb would have been knocked out. A Papke, a Willie Lewis or a Ketchell would have brought him down quickly in his drawn and weakened condition.

The Greb-Wilson fight probably will be the star disturbance one Friday night in December at the Garden.

The articles agreed upon by Frank Marlow, manager of Wilson, and Harry Greb, call for a bout of 15 rounds to a decision at 160 pounds at 2 p. m. on the day of the fight.

FRISCO FEATHERWEIGHTS FIGHT FAST DRAW

Marysville, Calif.—Teddy Seidman and Sammy Compagno, featherweights of San Francisco, fought four slashing rounds to a draw in the main event here Oct. 29. Other results: "Lefty" Cooper knocked out Jack Weber; Kid Sharkey won a decision from Barney Butler; Barney Cameron won the nod over Tommy Sacco; Young Kilrane defeated Jeff Tennis and Kid Flynn kayoed Joe Murray.

PAL MORAN MAY BOX JOHNNY DUNDEE

New York.—Effort is being made to match Pal Moran, New Orleans lightweight, and Johnny Dundee, featherweight champion, at Madison Square Garden, Joe Golden, manager of Moran said. The New Orleans boxer knocked out Charley White in his last appearance and hopes to meet Dundee before the latter sails for England. The pair has met three times, the last bout resulting in a 15-round draw.

Champs Must Defend Titles Every Six Months or Be Barred in New York

New York.—Under a new ruling adopted by the New York boxing commission every champion must fight a bona fide championship match every six months.

Failure to do so means indefinite suspension for the champion and possibly the forfeiture of the title. Any boxer fighting a suspended fighter will also draw an indefinite suspension.

By adopting the rule the commission did away with the old rule where a champion forfeited his title for not accepting a challenge of an opponent. Forfeiture of title would apply where a champion is unable to make his class weight or on account of illness.

In cases of forfeiture of titles in the various classes the challenger will not be awarded the title but a tournament will be staged. It will be an elimination affair and the winner of the final match will receive the title.

BATTLING BUDD WINS OVER CHICK BRANCH

Asheville, N. C.—In a ten-round bout held here Nov. 1 for the southern welterweight champion, Battling Budd, of Atlanta, won the decision over Chick Branch, of Asheville. Budd had Branch in bad shape after the second round, but failed to make him take the count.

The fans gave their approval of the match by cheering all during the bout.

Jack Wilson, promoter, plans to match Budd with Fearless Ferns on November 12, the bout to be held here.

FOUR KNOCKOUTS ON SAN JOSE CARD

San Jose, Calif.—Charlie Sullivan ran into a tough "hombre" here Nov. 1 in the person of Eddie London, but succeeded in taking a decision over the latter in the main event of the bouts at Westside Arena. "Kid" Rusty knocked out Jack Weber in the first round of the semi-windup.

Bennie Demske also scored a knockout, his punch putting the misnamed "Kayo" Gillis to sleep in the second frame of their squabble. A total of four knockouts, two decisions and one draw in seven bouts provided a good show.

The preliminaries resulted as follows:

Joe Powell knocked out Dave Flash, third round.

Harry Fargo drew with Fernando Herman.

Lee Reese took a decision over Jackie Miller.

"Battling" Kelly knocked out Eddie Garcia, third round.

PENNSYLVANIA BOXING LAW IN EFFECT DEC. 1

Harrisburg, Pa. — Pennsylvania's new boxing law, limiting contests to ten rounds to a decision, will go into effect on December 1. That was decided at a meeting of the recently appointed State Athletic Commission with Governor Pinchot.

All referees, judges, timekeepers, physicians, seconds, boxers; in fact, every one connected with the sport must be registered and pay a license fee.

All promoters, clubs and individuals who hold professional boxing shows must also pay a license fee, graded by the class of city they represent. Each must file a bond and hold a lease of not less than three months on the premises where the shows are held.

Robert A. Young, of Ebensburg, Cambria County, was appointed secretary of the commission, which will have its headquarters in Philadelphia. Mr. Young is a war veteran. He was in the United States Navy twenty-one of the thirty-nine years of his life.

While aboard ship he won the lightweight championship of the navy and has been a keen student of the sport. He is a graduate electrical engineer.

His salary was fixed at $2,000 per year and he will have his offices with the commission in Philadelphia.

It is planned to have a monster mass-meeting in Philadelphia of all interested in the sport about November 15, when the new law will be throughly explained. The rules which have governed the game in Philadelphia will be adopted with such changes as will make the game conform to the state law.

JACK McDONALD KNOCKS OUT SAILOR GAGNON

Kalamazoo, Mich.—With a terrific left to the stomach, Jack McDonald of Chicago knocked out Sailor Gagnon of Kalamazoo in the third of their scheduled 10-round main event before the Kalamazoo Athletic club, Nov. 2. The gob had just knocked the veteran Windy city fighter down a second time for the count of three. Gagnon, overconfident after apparently besting his experienced opponent, allowed himself to be caught by surprise. Racing across the ring to get away from McDonald's right he turned just in time to get the full force of a vicious left jab. It was an unexpected, climax to three rounds of furious milling.

Billy Freas of Grand Rapids laid Young Sharkey of Joliet, Ill., away with a series of rights in the fourth round of their scheduled 10-round mix-up.

Nelson Guiderson of Otsego, although knocked down for a count of nine in the fourth round of his 10-round bout with Eddie Slade of South Bend, lasted it out and won a draw by his aggressiveness all the way.

BALTIMORE FIGHTER WHIPS EVER HAMMER

Baltimore, Md.—Joe Dundee, Baltimore, won the decision over Ever Hammer, Chicago, in a 12-round bout here Nov. 1. After Dundee had been floored for the count of nine in the fourth round he won practically every round. Dundee weighed 137½ and Hammer 138½.

PEPPER MARTIN LOSES TO PHIL SALVADORE

Los Angeles, Calif.—Phil Salvadore won the verdict over "Pepper" Martin of New York in the main event in the Vernon arena Oct. 30.

Eddie Conrad won the decision over Frankie Kress. Dick Dixon and Ray Jeffries battled to a hard fought draw. Willie Hope won the decision over Joe Gomez and Ernie Owens and Red Uhlan were awarded a draw decision.

Many Ring Celebrities, Past and Present, Make Homes in Los Angeles

Los Angeles.—If Jack Dempsey has any introspective moments this winter, he has only to look about him and see what happens to fight champions when decay and defeat finally get into their punches.

Within a radius of ten miles of the heavyweight king's winter palace here, five ex-champions, once idols of the prize ring, are finishing out their lives in drab obscurity.

Two of them are Jack's immediate predecessors in the heavyweight class, Jess Willard and Jim Jeffries.

Jess is once more enjoying a comfortable bourgeois existence on the profits of his ill-starred comeback. He is living the life of a retired farmer in his well-appointed home in the middle class residential district here, not many blocks from where Dempsey lives.

Things are not so well with Jim Jeffries. The profits of his great ring career gradually dwindled through unfortunate ventures to the point where he recently went through bankruptcy. At present he is trying to make a living out of the old Jeffries ranch at Burbank, near here, and he periodically threatens to become evangelist.

Little Ad Wolgast, who knocked the lightweight crown off the embattled head of Bat Nelson, is now in poor health. Jack Doyle, fight promoter, has given him a home at the Vernon training quarters here, where the local four-round boys work out.

Billy Papke, former middleweight champion and conqueror of Stanley Ketchel, now lives on his orange grove in Altadena.

Tommy Ryan, never defeated as a welterweight, is the most prosperous of all the ex-champs. He is said to be piling up a fortune in real estate in Culver City.

Besides the five erstwhile ring kings, dozens of decaying lesser lights have located here to furnish Dempsey a memoria mortis.

Leach Cross, at one time the leading lightweight contender, is now making money in oil and Hollywood real estate.

Kid McCoy, famous for battles matrimonial as well as fistic, is working in the movies.

Tom Jones, the only man who ever managed three world's champions, is the latest to make his home in Los Angeles. Jones discovered three green fighters, Willard, Papke and Wolgast, and led them all to the top of their respective classes. Since he split with Willard in 1917, Jones has been living in semi-retirement.

ing with Harry Wills or Big Jack Thompson. Norfolk is no easy mark for Siki; in fact the Kid is liable to give the hero of Senegal quite an interesting time. Too bad that Siki could not have been bumped against Sam Langford, the veteran, for a try-out. Old Sam would have tested him to the limit. However, if Siki gets by all right and wins there is no doubt that he will be matched with Harry Wills, providing the latter does not get the bee buzzing again for a championship match with Champion Jack Dempsey, which, by the way, will never be granted him. Wills lost his chance when he butted into the Dempsey-Firpo match and tried to stop it by injunction. Then, too, there are other colored fighters to keep Siki busy—for instance, Bill Tate, Jack Thompson and Jack Taylor, the "Omaha Demon," whom Jack Lewis guides. If Siki is nearly as good as reports would indicate he should be returned winner over Norfolk.

Johnny Keyes, manager of "Pepper" Martin and Terry Martin of New York, is so taken up with Los Angeles that he wants to return here and hook up with Mike Collins, who is also "nutty" over the golden west. Mike has two great lads in Jimmy Delaney, light heavy, and Johnny O'Donnell, lightweight, so together they would have a strong combination. Collins is thinking seriously of staying out in California all winter and adding to his string of boxers. "Pepper" Martin became homesick for 42nd and Broadway and will probably return to New York, but may come back with his wife later. "Pepper" gave Phil Salvadore a gay time the other night at Doyle's big arena, but the judges gave Phil the verdict. A draw would not have harmed either. If they meet again Jack Doyle will have to build an addition to the Coliseum to hold the overflow, for there were over 2,000 turned away the other night. Another lad who made good in the short round game is Ray Jeffries, a youngster of Chicago, who won over Eddie Conrad, a clever local lad.

Marty Cross, the New York welterweight, has returned to the city after a vacation in the mountains with his wife and wants to get busy with the mitt game. Marty has been helping Brother Leach fix up a $250,000 apartment building, so the former dentist lightweight can take it easy for the balance of his life. Marty wants to meet Dave Shade or Mickey Walker for the title and says he will be ready within four weeks' to take on the best at 145 to 150.

The boxing promoters were given a scare the other day when the police heads closed the Madison Square boxing arena in Los Angeles. The chief said it was for the best interests of the city and as nothing was said about the other clubs the promoters are once more at ease. It is certain the people like the game, for there is no arena large enough to accommodate the crowds now, although the Coliseum seats close to 10,000 and the Hollywood Legion club close to 5,000. The latter club is now planning to remodel its arena to seat more than the Coliseum.

Jess Willard, ex-heavyweight champ, intends to be sure this time that his coin does not get away from him. Jess, after drawing down over $125,000 for his sparring stunts with Floyd Johnson and Luis Firpo in New York, remembered his oil experiences in the southwest and thought real estate could not be "sharked," so he spent $50,000 for a piece of property in Hollywood and is looking for more bargains. Jess likes the country and has decided to make Hollywood his home for the future. For exercise and pleasure Jess will play golf during his spare moments, but will keep away from the ring for all time.

Teddy Hayes, former trainer of Champion Jack Dempsey, who had his arm severely injured a week or two ago, is getting on nicely and the doctors say there will be no permanent handicap as was at first feared. The champion wants Teddy to go back with him, but Teddy has signed with the new Hollywood A. C., to take charge of the athletic end of it.

GEORGIE LEE BEATEN BY YOUNG CORBETT

Fresno, Calif.—Young Corbett of Fresno got the judges' verdict over Georgie Lee of Sacramento in the main event of the American Legion boxing show after four rounds of rapid-fire milling here Oct. 31. The Fresno southpaw constantly speared the little Celestial with his portside punches, but in the fourth Lee's steady fusillade of body punches began to have their effect and Corbett was hanging on at the bell.

In the semi-finals Kid Kopecks of Fresno gave Manila Kid of San Francisco a pasting for four rounds and earned the decision.

DICK CURLEY RESIGNS FROM EAST CHICAGO CLUB

Chicago.—Maurie Waxman, secretary for George-Oswego, East Chicago fight promoter, sent out the following letter "to the gentlemen of the press":

"Recent unsavory occurrences at the Oswego arena, East Chicago, Ind., especially the near rioting that occurred as a result of the sudden ending of the Frankie Schaeffer-George Butch contest, culminated in the resignation of Dick Curley as matchmaker of the club.

"Curley handed in his resignation to George Oswego, owner of the East Chicago auditorium, as matchmaker of the boxing club. Curley gave as his reason the fact that he has just received a tempting offer from Roy Green, a Boston promoter, to act as his matchmaker. The terms, declared Curley, are satisfactory to him and he has therefore decided to accept.

"This means that hereafter George Oswego himself will be responsible for all matches made at the club and that Curley will in no way, directly or indirectly, be connected with the club.

"Oswego is weighing the past performances of the boxers who have appeared at the club this season and those whose bouts ended in suspicious or unsatisfactory manner will be banned.

"However, the boxers who have made good in recent bouts will be brought back from time to time with opponents of like caliber so that only the highest class bouts will be presented.

BRONSON-BROWN HOPE TO HAVE 3 WORLD CHAMPS

Two world's champions—possibly three—before the end of 1924 is the ambitious goal toward which Jimmie Bronson and Lou Brown are bending their concerted efforts. The three "best bets" in the Bronson-Brown troupe are Jeff Smith, middleweight; Eddie Burnbrook, welterweight, and Jack Zivic, lightweight.

Smith is universally recognized as the leading rival of Harry Greb, present middleweight champion. Since winning the title, Greb has studiously avoided meeting with the Bayonne globe-trotter, but an increasing public demand for the match is expected to force the champion to defend his title against Smith within the next few months.

Burnbrook, king of the United States Army's welterweights, has been fighting in sensational form and is regarded as a logical contender for Mickey Walker's world's championship.

With Benny Leonard still retaining much of his old brilliance, Zivic has a difficult assignment confronting him in his quest for the world's lightweight title. Zivic, however, is recognized as a leading rival of the champion.

Besides these three aces, the Bronson-Brown string includes Johnny Leonard, the speedy Allentown junior lightweight; Bobby Garcia, the socking featherweight; Terry McHugh of Allentown and Pete Zivic of Pittsburgh, a brother of Jack, bantamweights
